

On behalf of the Atlanta Dream, we would like to thank Netball America for exposing this wonderful game to our fans. Everyone had a great time and they truly learned more about this wonderful sport. We look forward to continuing our partnership with the local Crusaders ATL Sports Club and having the Netball team back again next year. Best wishes to you all, Natalie White, Director of Ticket Sales & Service

“Growing up, playing netball helped me with learning how to work together. It was my first team sport that I learned and it provided me with the skills that I use today in basketball. It taught me that I have to depend on everyone, every position to win because we were all limited to certain areas on the court and that has allowed me to build trust with the people now in my work and personal life.” – Sancho Lyttle, Center for the WNBA Atlanta Dream (formerly of Saint Vincent and the Grenadines).

“It was an awesome experience playing netball with the young girls from Crusaders ATL Sports Club! There was a lot of teamwork and the young girls did a great job of teaching me the game. The biggest differences between basketball and netball were the restrictions in certain positions and not being able to play full court. I think it’s a fun sport and I had a great time playing with everyone.” – Aneika Henry, Forward for the Atlanta Dream (formerly of Jamaica).

The Women’s Sports Foundation’s GoGirlGo! Program has had the honor of working with Netball America over the past year. Through their Game on Goal Attack program, we’ve seen more than 100 GoGirlGo! participants introduced to the sport of Netball in Atlanta and Seattle. We look forward to continuing our relationship with Netball America as we all work toward building healthy, active, confident girls.

Netball America’s dedication to exposing the world to Netball is unmatched. Through social media campaigns like the Women’s Sports Foundation’s Get a Girl Going Contest to Netball exhibitions during WNBA games, Netball America is making its imprint on sports in the United States. We look forward to watching Netball grow, and getting more GoGirlGo! girls involved.

Best of luck with the Netball Championships. GoGirlGo!
